COMMUNICATION WORKER - VACANCY

Hemat Gryffe Women's Aid provides refuge accommodation, follow-on and outreach services to women, children and young people experiencing domestic abuse, forced marriage and honour-based abuse primarily from the Asian, Black and Minority Ethnic Community.

We are recruiting a Communication Worker to support the development of media and communications of the organisation.

It is essential that you have knowledge of the violence against women sector and an understanding of the impact of domestic abuse on women primarily from the Asian, Black and Minority Ethnic Community. A qualification in media and communication is required. The nature of our work requires a commitment to the feminist analysis of domestic abuse and to the values of Hemat Gryffe Women's Aid.
