Vacancy: Women's Domestic Abuse Community Worker

Hemat Gryffe Women's Aid provides refuge accommodation, follow-on and outreach services to women, children and young people experiencing domestic abuse, forced marriage and honour-based abuse primarily from the Asian, Black and Minority Ethnic Community.

We are recruiting a Women's Domestic Abuse Community Worker to support women living in Glasgow's Northeast and Northwest locality.

It is essential that you have experience of working with women who have experienced gender-based abuse. A suitable qualification that meets with Scottish Social Services Council housing support registration is required. The nature of our work requires a commitment to the feminist analysis of domestic abuse and to the values of Hemat Gryffe Women's Aid. It is essential that you are bilingual and speak English and Hindi, Punjabi, or Urdu.
